

THE MIKE AND KAREN STUART SCHOLARSHIP

OVERVIEW:

The Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association (FFVA) and the Florida Specialty Crop Foundation are dedicated to cultivating strong leaders and building a robust talent pipeline for Florida agriculture. To inspire passion for the industry and support the next generation of agricultural professionals, FFVA established the Mike and Karen Stuart Scholarship.

This scholarship supports college students pursuing careers in the specialty crop sector—an essential segment of agriculture that includes vegetables, citrus, tropical fruit, berries, sod, sugar cane, tree crops and more. Eligible applicants must be interested in production areas such as growing, packing, and shipping, or in allied trade fields including fertilizer and crop protection, equipment, food safety, sales, marketing, and other related disciplines.

Created in honor of Mike and Karen Stuart's many years of dedicated service to the specialty crop industry, the scholarship recognizes their commitment and invests in students who will help advance the future of Florida agriculture.

ABOUT FFVA: The Florida Fruit & Vegetable Association is a full-service organization serving Florida's grower-shipper community since 1943. FFVA represents a broad range of crops: vegetables, citrus, tropical fruit, berries, sod, sugar cane, tree crops, and more. We listen and respond to our members' needs, working to shape agricultural public policy. Our mission is to enhance the competitive and business environment for producing and marketing fruits, vegetables, and other crops.
